

We have a backup system that performs backups twice a day, storing them in a self-hosted server that is behind administrator access and secure passwords.